I've Got a Question.

We hear all this talk about change and transforming, but to what and how?

How do these changes align with my existing core KBIs?

Are the processes compatible?

Are the reward metrics constant with my existing reward systems?

Do we possess, at least, the minimum level of knowledge to create value for my customer?

What are the trends in the markets affecting the services that are my future opportunity?

Am I ahead or behind those trends?

The background of the slide is a dark green gradient. Numerous US dollar bills of various denominations (including $1, $5, $10, $20, $50, and $100) are shown in mid-air, appearing to fall or float around the central text. The bills are slightly blurred to give a sense of motion.
